The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 4-7 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ebersole (U.S. Patent 6,814,212).

Ebersole discloses a ball transfer unit having a plurality of small balls 40, a large ball 16, a cover and a selection of materials for the main body and large ball which fall within the claimed range. See column 5, lines 31-41.

Re claim 4, the balls may be formed of the same material.

Re claim 5, a single material may be used.

Re claim 6, the single material may be one of these.

Re claim 7, stainless steel is anticipated by Ebersole's disclosure.

Re claim 9, the hole for the large ball is a through hole.

Re claim 10, the units are fixed at predetermined intervals.

Re claim 11, substrates may be conveyed.

Claims 2, 3 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
